

GRAHAM M. FOX, M.P.H., FACHE
COO/ CFO – GI Specialists of Georgia
(678) 803 1645 ♦ gfox@gigeorgia.com

Graham M. Fox has over 20 years' executive healthcare experience - overseeing the strategic, operational, and financial growth of physician practices and health systems. He specializes in physician practice/health system integration and has held multiple senior leadership roles in both nonprofit systems and academic medical centers where he led numerous physician acquisitions and integrations, practice startups, financial turnarounds and employment agreement negotiations. He has also consulted numerous projects in revenue cycle efficiency, organizational development, and provider compensation redesign. He is currently the COO/ CFO for GI Specialists of Georgia, one of the largest GI groups in the state. Graham holds a Bachelor of Arts (BA) in Biology/ Psychology from Middlebury College; and a Master in Public Health (MPH) in Health Policy and Management from Emory University, Rollins School of Public Health. He is a Fellow of the American College of Healthcare Executives.

Away from work, Graham is an advocate of education. He serves as a Trustee of Wagner College (Staten Island, NY), is the Chair of the Academic and Student Affairs Committee and recently participated on the Provost Search Committee. Graham is an accomplished athlete who enjoys running, soccer and golf, and is a Deacon at First Baptist Church of Dalton. Graham, his wife, Bradley, and their two daughters, Caroline and Campbell, reside in Dalton, GA.