

Stephan Davis, DNP, MHSA, FACHE, FNAP, FHFMA, FAAN
Exec Dir/Inclusive Leadership Ed & Asst Dean of DEI
Virginia Commonwealth University

Stephan Davis, DNP, MHSA, FACHE, FNAP, FHFMA, FAAN is the inaugural Executive Director of Inclusive Leadership Education for the department of health administration at Virginia Commonwealth University (VCU). He also serves as the interim Associate Dean of Diversity, Equity, and Inclusion for VCU College of Health Professions and the School of Nursing.

Dr. Davis is a fellow and national faculty member for the American College of Healthcare Executives (ACHE). He previously chaired the ACHE LGBTQ Healthcare Leaders Community and has served as an ACHE Regent-at-Large, a role created to foster diversity in the governance of ACHE. He is the immediate past chair of the Quality and Safety Faculty Forum for the Association of University Programs in Health Administration. He has also been appointed by the American Academy of Nursing's Board of Directors to the Diversity & Inclusivity committee for a two-year term.

Dr. Davis earned his Doctor of Nursing Practice degree in healthcare leadership, systems, and policy at Yale University and is an elected member of the Yale Alumni Association Board of Governors. His master's degree in health systems administration was completed at Georgetown University. He also holds numerous board certifications, including credentials in healthcare quality, finance, strengths-based coaching, nursing leadership, and academic nursing education. In addition to his fellowship with ACHE, he is a fellow of the National Academies of Practice, the Healthcare Financial Management Association, and the American Academy of Nursing.