

Tracy W. Suber, EdD, MSN/Ed, RN
Vice President, Education
Phoebe Putney Health System

Dr. Suber returned to Phoebe in 2015 and serves as a leader over multiple areas to include nursing education, leadership development, new employee orientation, nurse and respiratory extern programs, and the nurse residency program. In 2020, Tracy was integral in the design of the brand-new state of the art Simulation and Innovation Center, now overseeing operations of it as well. In the past 18 months, Tracy's focus has been on workforce development, specifically building the pipeline through multiple innovative and diverse partnerships. Most recently, she has been serving as one of the leads on the Living Learning Community project between Phoebe and Albany Technical College.

Prior to her return to Phoebe, Tracy taught at Darton College in courses throughout the nursing program, ending her tenure there as Assistant Dean of Nursing and Director of the RN to BSN program at Darton College. Tracy is an Associate degree graduate from Darton College, a Baccalaureate graduate from Thomas University, and a master's graduate from the University of Phoenix. She obtained her Doctor of Education with a focus in Leadership from Valdosta State University in 2018.

Tracy is passionate about education and serves as a preceptor/mentor for novice nurses. Tracy advocates for healthcare policy, specifically as it impacts workforce issues. She serves on the Board of Directors for Leadership Albany, Darton Foundation, and the Commodore College & Career Academy Foundation. She also chairs the Training and Professional Development committee for the Healthcare Sector Partnership, Work Source Southwest Georgia, and most recently joined the Talent, Education and Leadership committee for the Albany Chamber of Commerce.

Tracy is married to Britton Suber, an anesthetist at Phoebe Putney Memorial Hospital and they have three children, Bradyn (19), Lily (17), and Grant (12). They enjoy traveling in their RV, boating/water sports, and working out together.
