

Boykin Robinson, MD, MBA

Dr. Boykin Robinson is a founding member of Core Clinical Partners and serves as the Chief Executive Officer. A Physician Executive with years of experience leading teams of clinicians and business professionals, he is well positioned to help the company grow and succeed in a complicated healthcare environment.

His clinical career in Emergency Medicine started in Atlanta and quickly progressed into various levels of Emergency Department and hospital leadership. Over his career, he has managed a division of a national healthcare staffing company, helped to purchase and turn around a failing hospital, and most recently founded a physician services company.

Dr. Robinson received his undergraduate degree from the University of North Carolina, his medical degree from the University of South Carolina School of Medicine, and his MBA at the Haslem College of Business at the University of Tennessee. He completed his Emergency Medicine residency at Emory University, is board certified in healthcare management by the American College of Healthcare Executives, and is a Fellow of the American College of Emergency Physicians.